FINDINGS OF THE SEMINAR:

Based on the detailed and in-depth deliberation on the different issues and aspects of the seminar, the seminar draws some important observations such as - rural entrepreneurship is a key figure in economic transformation of rural development in NEI, rural connectivity is identified as one of the key priorities to achieve rural development and poverty alleviation, rural women are not financially empowered as yet, micro finance plays an important role in bringing change in the socio-economic conditions of the rural poor, Self Help Groups (SHGs) are the major contributor to rural development, development of agricultural marketing plus economic infrastructure of NEI must be stressed on, the importance of cane and bamboo works as remunerative economic activities is yet be realized in NEI, women play a major role in rural areas through participation in different activities such as agriculture, handloom, weaving, food production and processing etc., there is an urgent need of a holistic approach for rural development in NEI.

SUGGESTIONS OF THE SEMINAR:

The seminar also draws some meaningful suggestions some of which can be highlighted as - more bank branches should be established as micro finance, there is a need of a green revolution to boost the rural economy, participation of women in activities like fashion, designing, tailoring, food processing, beautification etc. is required, steps should be taken to convert barren land into fertile land by scientific methods, small scale and labour intensive industries should be set up in rural areas, NGOs may help the SHGs in identifying new marketing areas and methods of distribution of products manufactured of marketed by SHGs, donor agencies should take active initiatives in selecting funding projects, corruption must be stopped, proper monitoring is the need of the hour, the government should take appropriate financial management approach in the execution of rural development schemes, creation of women leaders among rural women for their upliftment, familiarization of rural population with new technologies through proper training, rural development is possible when the rural people can participate in the decision making process as well as micro level planning effectively etc.

CONCLUSION:

The seminar came into an end at 05.00 pm on 24th September, 2016 after the valedictory session. The session was chaired by Dr. Dipak Kr. Neog, Principal, Dhemaji College. The certificates of participation to the paper presenters and other participants were awarded in the valedictory session. The seminar came into an end with a short speech from the chairperson.
