this day. Pi Day is observed on the 14th day of the third month of the calendar year because when written in a month-day format, it is written as 3/14, which represents the first three significant digits (3.14) of Pi.

Dr. Dipak Kr. Neog, Principal, Dhemaji College delivered inaugural speech. He appreciated the effort made by the department in creating awareness about the importance of Pi and Pi Day among the students of the college.

Chief Guest Mrs. Ibharani Barsaikia spoke about the importance and origins of Pi Day. It was started in 1988 at the San Francisco Exploratorium by renowned physicist Lawry

Shaw. The scientists celebrated the occasion by devouring numerous fruit pies. Pi is basically used to find out the area and circumference of the circle.

Some key features and history of Pi and Pi Day were explained by Mr. Abhijit Konch, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Mathematics, Dhemaji College. In his speech he mentioned that the UNESCO designated Pi Day as an "International Day of Mathematics" in 2019. In view of this, a day like today is very important for all of us, as it provides us the opportunity to learn about PI, "the King of Constants". He also explained about this Pi Day and the theme of this year.

As part of the celebration, an Inter Department Presentation (PPT) Competition was organized by the Department of Mathematics, Dhemaji College.

More than 80 students from different departments of our college attended in the program.
